With the economy taking us on a roller-coaster ride with its many twists, and turns—having a sound financial plan has never been so important. The team at Designing Spaces along with special guest Chase Card Services together are taking a closer look on how to better manage our finances, and save the roller-coaster rides—for the amusement park! Tune in to Designing Spaces as they air on TLC Saturday, February 27th at 7:00 a.m. Eastern/Pacific.

Chase Card Services introduces-- Chase Blueprint<sup>SM</sup>. Blueprint is a unique set of features that makes it easy for consumers to manage their spending and borrowing, whatever their financial style. A customer's balance, everyday expenses and major purchases can all be managed based upon their financial goals.

Other benefits include ways that customers can design their own plan to pay off balances sooner, save money by avoiding interest charges, and then easily track progress toward achieving their financial goals on every statement, online-- and on the phone.

Chase Card Services know that sticking to a plan can be a challenge for people. It's important to design a plan that works for you and your budget. Don't get overwhelmed by large expenses—create a plan that splits them into manageable monthly payments. It's also important to have features built into your credit card account so you can track your spending and ensure you're keeping to your plan.

Put yourself in charge of your own finances by designing and sticking to a plan that works best for you. Chase Blueprint<sup>SM</sup> can help. For more information check out www.chase.com/blueprint.
